Privacy and Company Policies

Chrysalis Connections, LLC, provides non-medicalized, non-pathologizing, relationally-focused individual, couple, marriage, and Christian counseling services. Chrysalis Connections, LLC is a private pay entity and does not panel with insurance companies, diagnose, treat mental illness, or create medical records. Chrysalis Connections, LLC does not transmit any form of personal health information electronically (or via any other form of transmission) for purposes of reimbursement or other reason(s). Chrysalis Connections, LLC is not a HIPAA-covered entity.

Should a potential or existing client be assessed to be in need of treatment for a mental illness or disorder, as defined by the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders (DSM-5), the client(s) will be referred to an appropriate mental health service provider for treatment. Clients wishing to return to a relational talk therapy, individual, couple, marriage, or Christian counseling format will be reassessed to ensure readiness for relational services.

Chrysalis Connections, LLC is committed to your privacy and will follow the terms of this notice. If you have any questions about this privacy and company policy notice, please direct your questions to Chrysalis Connections, LLC via email at ChrysalisConnections@icloud.com.

How we may use and share information about you:

Contacting you: We may contact you by mail, phone, or email regarding appointments and payment as a follow-up to services provided or upon client request.

Client appointment summaries: We will produce client notes or appointment summaries regarding your in-person, online, and phone appointment(s). These documents constitute Chrysalis Connection's client/business records and are the sole property of Chrysalis Connections, LLC. Should you desire, a summary of the services you have received at Chrysalis Connections, LLC can be provided. Such requests must be submitted in writing. Chrysalis Connections, LLC will not release client records to any third-party entity, including, but not limited to, insurance agencies or law firms. Chrysalis Connections, LLC will keep your appointment notes for seven years after the termination of services, at which time they will be destroyed in a confidential manner.

Client litigation: Chrysalis Connections, LLC will not participate in any litigation, personal injury, divorce, or custody dispute to which the client, the client's spouse, family member, etc., are a party. Chrysalis Connections, LLC has a policy of not communicating with any insurance agency, law firm, or attorney regarding confidential information and will not respond to any inquiries made by such entities, write or sign letters, reports, or declarations to be used in any legal matter, provide client appointment summaries or testimony.

Insurance reimbursement: The client is responsible for all fees. Chrysalis Connections, LLC does not transmit client information or bill insurance agencies or other entities in any form, including electronically, for payment. Upon client request, Chrysalis Connections, LLC will provide a receipt of services rendered. Confidentiality is waived, and the client assumes full responsibility for all possible outcomes and breaches of confidential client information if they choose to submit this information to an insurance company. Chrysalis Connections, LLC will not respond to third-party insurance requests for information in any form, including but not limited to phone, email, text, or letter.

Involving third parties: You have the option of inviting family members or friends to your appointments. However, when this is the case, the client assumes all risk for the possible disclosure of confidential information. In emergencies or situations in which you are unable to tell us whom to share information with, we will only share information with others on a need-to-know basis (police officers, emergency personnel, etc.). We may also share information about you with a public or private agency during a disaster so the agency can help contact our family or friends about your location and well-being.

Service provider availability: Chrysalis Connections, LLC does not provide 24-hour crisis services. We recommend you call 911 or go to the nearest emergency room for evaluation if you are feeling unsafe or believe you need immediate medical or psychiatric evaluation.

Threats to health or safety: When necessary, to prevent a serious and urgent threat to the health and safety of you or someone else, we will share your personal information with appropriate authorities, such as the police or child protective services (CPS). This includes knowledge of possible abuse or neglect of children, elders, or dependent adults, as well as the knowledge that a client has been a victim of abuse, neglect, or domestic violence.

Law enforcement: We may release your personal information to a law enforcement official, as authorized or required by law, in response to a court order, subpoena, warrant, summons, or similar process; if you are suspected to be a victim of a crime; about a death we believe may be the result of a crime; about criminal conduct within the practice; in an emergency, to report a crime; the location of the crime or victims; or the identity, description, or location of the person who committed the crime.

Termination of services: Chrysalis Connections, LLC reserves the right to terminate all services at the discretion of your service provider for reasons including, but not limited to, untimely or nonpayment of fees, noncompliance with treatment recommendations, conflicts of interest, failure to participate (repeated missed appointments), or should we determine that your needs are outside the service provider's scope of practice or competence. You have the right to terminate at your discretion, with the appropriate notice, and to cancel all further sessions in order not to accumulate fees for late cancels or no-call/no-shows. The undisclosed recording of a therapy session (video or audio) will be considered a breach of the therapeutic relationship and grounds for termination of services.
